

Sponsor Requirements:	Do the terms and conditions in any sponsored funding grants or contracts or license agreements prohibit or restrict disclosure outside the institution or via the NCI-caGrid?
------------------------------	--

No restrictions on sharing data

1. Funding agreements
 - Either no restrictions on sharing data or affirmative obligations to make raw data publicly available
 - Ownership of data by institution
2. Economic status
 - No intrinsic commercial value
 - Note: see “Sponsor Requirements” concerning terms and conditions of 3rd party funding (industry, philanthropic or government) and license agreements.
3. Clinical data
 - Data available from provider in non-proprietary format
 - Data derived under consent that grants no proprietary rights to the subject

Time-limited restrictions on data sharing; may only be shared under a “yellow lane” agreement (strong confidentiality language).

1. Terms and conditions
 - Time-limited in order to redact confidential information or file patent applications
 - Delay in publication of results derived from data to allow data provider/owner to publish their findings first
 - Delay based on timing of key events, e.g., publication of multi-site data, FDA approval of subject, company IPO

Classified research or major restrictions on transfer of data

1. Terms and conditions
 - Restrictions placed on sharing data relating to materials proprietary to sponsor or in which sponsor has reserved patent license rights
 - Restrictions on institution’s ability to transfer data/permit reuse by parties other than sponsor
 - Exclusive license rights in data generated with sponsored funding
 - National security restrictions on dissemination of data
